Miss Me-But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me, I want no rites in a gloom-filled room, why cry for a soul set free? Miss me a little, but not for long, and not with your heads bowed low! Remember the love that we once shared, miss me, but let me go. For this is a journey that we all must take; and each must go alone; It's all apart of the Master's plan, a step on the road to home. When you are lonely and sick at heart, go to the friends we know and bury your sorrows in doing good deeds. Miss me, but let me go.

Love, Buena Vista Jackson

Acknowledgement

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent a floral spray, if so, we saw it there. Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend would say. Perhaps you were not there at all; just thought of us that day. Whatever you did to console our hearts, We thank you very much whatever the part. May God bless you.

Obituary

Deacon Lee Ernest Scott was born on October 19, 1938 to Henry Scott and Bessie Scott in Newington, Georgia. He attended school in Screven County. Lee was a faithful member of Power of Faith Church until his heath failed. He departed this life on Thursday, March 17, 2016

Lee leaves to cherish his memories his loving and devoted wife, Mrs. Viola J. Scott; seven children, Lisa Scott (Bianca), Gwendolyn Scott, Leroy Scott (Barbra), Randolph Scott (Wanda), Bernard Scott (Sabrina), Richard Jordan (Pamela), Jacque Jordan, and Delma Griffin (Roy); five sisters, Viola Scott, Sara Jackson (Eric), Elese Reed, Bessie Black (Willis), and Nellie Pierce (Dock); four special granddaughters that helped take care of him, Charisse Jordan, Tiffney Jordan, Ashley Jordan, and Vista Scott Jackson; a very very special uncle, Robert Jordan; aunt, Angie Jordan; three sisters-in-law, Charlotte Jordan, Mattie Jordan, and Gloria Miller; thirty grandchildren; thirty-three great-grandchildren and a host of nieces, nephews, other family members, and friends.

“His Journey’s Just Begun”

Don’t think of him as gone away; his journey’s just begun. Life holds so many facets—this earth is only one. Just think of him as resting from the sorrows and the tears, in a place of warmth and comfort, where there are no days and years. Think how he must be wishing, that we could know today, how nothing but our sadness can really pass away. And think of him as living in the hearts of those he touched, for nothing loved is ever lost, and He loved so much.
