Grandma, I love you. What do I have when I've lost apart of my heart I can't get back.
Where would I run when these tears fall and your shoulder won't be there?
What will I do when I've made a mistake and I run to the breath that never judged me;
Or those arms that never let me go?
Grandma you have always been an angel beside me; God chose you to help guide me.
You gave me hope when no one else cared, you held my hand when I was scared.
No matter the situation or the circumstance,
I promise to be strong and fight till the very end.
Today my angel got her peace and earned her wings;
But, today I'm lost and alone, never forgetting the day the Lord called my granny home.
~ Your Grand daughter, Jahida ~

Till We Meet Again

May God's peace be with you, till we meet again.
Till we reach that distant shore,
And we'll shed a tear no more.
May He give you strength to endure,
Till we meet again.
May God's love be with you, till we meet again. When we reach that promised land,
And we're walking hand-in-hand.
May He give you strength to stand,
Till we meet again.
May my love be with you, till we meet again.
Till we walk the streets of gold,
Where we'll never, never grow old.
We'll find rest for our souls,
When we meet again.
Mama, we love you always.
~ Your Daughter ~

A Mother's Teaching

The things we learned from our Mother,
We shall keep in our hearts and minds.

She taught us to be compassionate,
To be merciful and kind.

She taught us how to bind a wound
And soothe a sister's cry;
She taught us how to know the truth
And to despise a lie.

Our Mother showed us how to work
And earn an honest wage;
She counseled us on life's strange ways,
Her advice was always sage.

Those children who learn the truths of life
From a Mother, wise and strong
Will grow in stature and in faith,
By heeding them their whole life long.
