Throughout my life I've been filled with your warmth and joy, there's nothing like the love from a mother to her baby boy. You raised me to be strong and to do what is right, because in life nothing is easy, everything comes with a fight. You gave me the tools that I would need to succeed, and though times were tough I knew that you believe. Believed in me to get it together, I would often tell myself that you taught me better. And with all that life has taught me there's one thing I can't contest, that when it's all said and done, MOM KNOWS BEST. I love you MOM, you will always be in my heart

Thank-you for attending today. Thanks for the calls, cards, gifts, food, visits, prayers and encouragement. Our spirit was lifted as we received your acts of kindness and love. God said He would never leave or forsake us. Thank-you for your part in this work. God called, and one has responded as we all will do someday. I pray that God will bless and keep you until the appointed time.
