

Hang In Heaven

Isaiah, Mickey or Daddy... No matter what you called him, he was there. If you needed a job done, he would just say 'tell me where'. He argued, fussed and thought he knew it all. Smaller in stature but had courage 10 feet tall. Spades, reading and the Jags were some favs of his. Sweet memories like that gets us through days like this. He gave so much of himself to all who he knew. Now I sit and think about how fast time flew. I wished for more moments, more time, more of you, I hope we make you proud as your legacy lives through your mom, siblings, children and loved ones too. Your love is in all of us, and we can now deal with these times in peace knowing you felt our hearts for real. So today and always we hold you so close and so near. Until that the day comes for us to hang in heaven with you my dear.

Love you Daddy....

Life Reflections

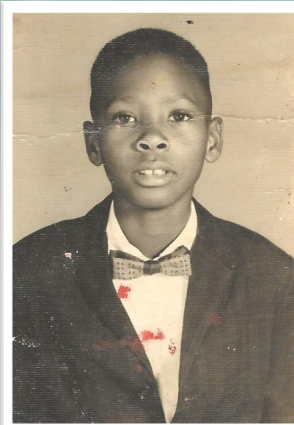

Isaiiah Walker Williams born as Isiah Cheeseborough III to Lizzie Mae Shealy and Isiah Cheeseborough on January 26, 1957 in Jacksonville, Florida. Isaiiah was adopted and raised by his godparents, Lenneon and Amy Williams and was reared in a home where it was mandatory to attend Sunday School and Church services regularly. Growing up, Mickey was well respected as the oldest child. He was the big brother to his siblings, and he had to babysit and take care of them. He did it well!

Isaiiah affectionately known as “Cheeseborough” to his classmates and neighborhood friends, “Mickey” to everyone else, attended trade school and received his Carpentry Certification in 1980. He was well known for his many skills and talents and he helped everyone that needed assistance.

Mickey moved to New York City, where he had a daughter, Tiffany and son, Marquise Williams. He continued his Carpentry skills working for VOM Carpentry, formally known as CW Carpentry. Returning to Jacksonville, Florida in October 1990, Mickey worked several jobs continuing in his carpentry craft. He was a very dedicated, loving, funny, and smart man. He had a love for reading and would read any and everything; his favorite NFL team was the Jaguars, and he enjoyed fishing, talking trash and playing cards. He will be tremendously missed by his family and friends.

Mickey departed this life on Saturday, October 29, 2022, with his family at his side. He was preceded in death by his adopted parents, Lenneon and Amy Williams; grandmother, Inez Shealy; aunts, Edna Patterson, Debra Williams, Linda Brinson; and uncle, Donnie Marshall.

Mickey leaves to cherish fond memories: a loving and devoted daughter, Tiffany Williams-Bolden; son-in-law, David Bolden both of West Palm Beach, Florida; son, Marquise Williams; grandchildren, David Baptiste and Donovan Bolden; mother, Lizzie Mae Peters (John Peters Sr.); siblings, Sharon Shealy, Rhonda Williams Bryant, Phyllis Bradley (Victor Bradley), Bridgette Holsey (Wilson Holsey Jr.), Sean Peters and John Peters Jr. (Tyhessa Holmes); bonus mom, Vivian Williams; a host of cousins, other family members and friends.
